

Revised Model Process Released

Registration for Training Sessions Now Open!

The AAMDC is pleased to announce the release of the revised Model Process for Subdivision Approval and Private Sewage. This document was originally developed in 2004 and provides a guide for the evaluation of a proposed subdivision that will rely on private sewage. The guide helps determine if private sewage systems are a suitable wastewater treatment method for the proposed subdivision.

Since early 2009, the original Model Process has been piloted in three member municipalities. The feedback from Rocky View County, Lac Ste. Anne County and the County of Vermilion River has resulted in a much-improved resource that will assist all rural municipalities. The Model Process now consists of three documents, each available at www.aamdc.com or by clicking on the titles below:

- The Model Process for Subdivision Approval and Private Sewage
- Model Process Technical Resources
- Example Level Three Assessment of Site Suitability (2003 version; not revised)

To assist municipalities in becoming familiar with these documents and integrating them into their approval processes, the AAMDC is offering free training sessions. These sessions are intended for a broad audience, including elected officials, senior administrators, development officers, planners, engineering staff and any other interested municipal officials. The sessions will walk participants through the new documents and explain their value and utility. All members are encouraged to send representatives to the session in your area.

Each session listed below will run from 10:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m., with lunch provided.
